The Man Who Made "Cabiria" to Be in Lexington This Week.

"The world," it is said, "knows nothing of its greatest men." It is astonishingly to note how infrequently the men who really do things—the actual workers—court publicity. The motion picture of D'Annunzio which is being presented at the Ben Ali Theatre in Lexington, commencing Monday, August 31, supplies a case in point.

Literally, this production is the talk of the world. A tribute to, and a manifestation of Italian genius, the actual worker, or director, of the colossal spectacle, does not figure by name in the program, and so far, has escaped mention in the papers.

It is Pastrone.

Pastrone is the constructive partner of the Itala Company. He it is, who for ten years has been quietly making Itala pictures until his labors culminated in the masterly "Cabiria."

Taking in hand D'Annunzio's story, Pastrone staged the spectacle as probably no other man in existence could have done.

"There is only one director in the world," said Carlo Sciamengo, Pastrone's business partner. He meant Pastrone of course. And the great spectacle "Cabiria" attests Sciamengo's handsome tribute to his associate. It is no exaggeration to say that motion picture makers in all parts of the world, regard Pastrone as their chief. What his salary is in United States money would be hard to conjecture.

Pastrone is one of the men who does not court publicity; on the contrary, he depreciates it. Still, the desire of the world to know something of the people who serve it, is a reasonable one. And everybody just now is saying: "Cabiria" is a wonderful production—who made it?" The answer is, Pastrone, the unknown craftsman of Torino. He is suspected of a design to go one better than "Cabiria."

Reserved seats at all performances.

Lesson I

Furnish your home handsomely

Dear Amy— I am teaching Baby John right now that when he marries he owes a duty to the girl who gives her heart and her life. I'm teaching him that nothing will make his wife as happy as to first furnish her home beautifully. I teach him that if he himself wants to be happy in his home, he must first make his wife happy.

Always your friend, Lou

P. S.—If that house is in business when John marries, I shall buy furniture, rugs and things for his home from no one but

PURE BRED HOGS.

Offer Great Opportunity to Farmers of Kentucky.

The Frankfort State Journal in commenting on McKee Bros.' splendid hog sale, calls attention to facts which it would profit Madison county farmers to ponder on. The Journal says: "The average of $107.50 each for hogs sold at McKee Bros. sale in Woodford county calls attention to the high prices which pigged. Duroc Jerseys bring. The Agricultural Department is trying to show Kentucky farmers that there is little or no profit in raising 'razor backs' and feeding them corn straight, but plenty of profit in raising pigged, or at least pure blooded hogs and feeding them a balanced ration.

"There are not a great many good breeding plants producing hogs of the right blood for Kentucky farms. It is always more satisfactory to buy at home and when you have examined the animals than to buy them 'sight unseen.' It is expensive to travel far to buy good stock. There is room in Kentucky for more breeding plants for blooded animals than are in existence. They should be well distributed. Of course the McKee Bros. do not depend on the home market, but attract buyers from many States. Nevertheless there is money in blooded stock even for less well advertised plants where the right stock is produced."

Sells Paper.

Arthur Timoney, who recently established the Lawrenceburg Record, has sold his paper to Jesse Alverson, owner of the Lawrenceburg News, and the Record will be published no more. "Tim" made a good paper of the Record and was getting his share of the work, but had business judgment enough to realize the fact that two papers can not live in a one-paper town. Mr. Timoney will resume his work with the Advocate-Danville Messenger.

Billions Earned Yearly by the Hens of the U. S.

Professional farmers are not the only ones who share in the gains from "keeping chickens."

Over $300,000,000 is a very tidy sum for the nimble hen to add to the income of the people of the United States, yet it is a fact that this huge figure is attained by the revenue from eggs and poultry sold in this country in a single year. It means more than 16,000,000—1,300,000 dozen—enough to give every man, woman and child more than 13 dozen eggs each a year.

It is a profitable business, not only for the farmers, but also for city folks with a little spare land in which to carry it on. Many a family is keeping the table supplied with fresh eggs—strictly fresh, and no doubt about it—and with toothsome chicken all the year round.

There is no need to go away from home to begin egg raising. Many a successful chicken grower has begun on a small plot in the rear of his home. A quarter of an acre gives ample room to go about it in a systematic way, or even less ground can be started on.

A Philadelphia man and his wife recently got an acre of ground on the edge of town, began experimenting with chickens and vegetables and before long were clearing over $100 a year, and the man was doing his regular work all the time in the city.

The greatest egg raiser in the United States is said to be John M. Foster and his farm is called the "Million Egg Farm," because he produces that number of eggs per year. Foster was a young city man. He was dissatisfied with his life; wanted to get out of doors more, so got a small farm near town. He learned everything he could about the business and now in a year he clears close to $20,000 from his farm. Not many people want to go into it so extensively, but Foster's experience shows what city people can do.

Any city worker who wants to get into the business and who hasn't the ground needed, can usually pick up a piece of land on the outskirts of the city, where values are low, and get it at such a price that the revenue from the poultry will pay for the land in a short time. More and more families are taking advantage of them every year and embarking in the healthful, profitable business of poultry raising and vegetable farming on a small scale.

Democratic Pie.

Collectors T. S. Mays, of the Fifth district, and John W. Hughes, of the Eighth district, are in Washington conferring with the Treasury department officials. They called at the department with Senator James. It is expected the result of their visit will be the placing of many Democrats as storekeeper-gaugers in the Kentucky revenue districts.

Seek Hampton's Pardon.

A petition for the pardon of Lee Hampton, Deputy State Insurance Commissioner under Gov. Willson, is being circulated. Hampton is alleged to be a fugitive and his whereabouts unknown. Investigation of the books in the Insurance Department disclosed a shortage and he was indicted by a Franklin county grand jury, but he has never been arrested.

Internal Revenue Tax Largely Increased.

(W. P. WALTON.)

The preliminary report of the Commissioner of Internal Revenue shows that the receipts for the fiscal year 1914 were the largest in the history of the country, due to the income and corporation tax. The total is $380,008,891. The tax from incomes and corporations was $71,381,275, of which amount Kentucky contributed $394,200.92. In addition to this she paid $35,000,000 in internal revenue, being the fourth largest in State contributions. The Seventh district paid $4,830,894.20, being next to the Louisville district the largest amount paid in the State. There was a falling off of $4,781,165 in taxes on distilled spirits, which seems to contradict the statement that the consumption of liquor is increasing notwithstanding the increase of prohibition territory, unless the previous supply was largely drawn on. The fact that liquors paid some $134,000,000 of taxes indicates, however, that a considerable amount was imbibed.

When we have National prohibition of the manufacture and sale of spirituous liquors, as our prohibition friends promise will soon be a reality, this vast sum for the support of the Government will have to be raised from other sources and then there will be weeping, wailing and gnashing of teeth, if placed more directly upon the people.

After we have the prohibition of liquor, we shall likely have prohibition of tobacco, it having been promised in some quarters. Of the revenue collected, cigarettes paid $2,666,116 and tobacco $76,789,425, and this will also have to be provided for. While the results from its use are not so bad as from the intemperate use of liquors, it is almost as unnecessary, and when we begin to regulate the habits of man we had as well go the whole hog, and let the millennium have free course and be glorified.

MANY USES FOR MINT

VARIETY OF WAYS IN WHICH IT MAY BE EMPLOYED.

Valuable as a Flavoring, Where It Is Not Desired in Quantity—As a Sherbet—Proper Method of Drying.

Mint in Soups, Salads and Vegetables.—Cucumber salad, or an apple and celery salad, is greatly improved by a sprinkle of fine, chopped mint leaves. Just a suspicion of mint with cooked peas, or a cream of pea or potato soup, is a great addition to a lamb or veal salad.

Mint Jelly.—This is also an approved accompaniment for lamb or mutton. To make it pour a pint of boiling water over a bunch of fresh bruised mint leaves and simmer gently ten or fifteen minutes; strain, and to a pint of the hot liquid allow one package of currant, lemon or any of the quick process acid jellies or half a package of gelatin soaked half an hour in cold water to dissolve; add sugar to sweeten and lemon juice to make acid as desired. Stir until thoroughly dissolved, then set away to cool. As it begins to stiffen stir in two tablespoonfuls of capers, pour into one good-sized mold or tiny individual ones and set away to harden. When cold and firm turn out and garnish with tiny sprigs of fresh mint.

Mint Vinegar.—Put crushed mint leaves in a wide-mouthed bottle, then fill up with good old vinegar. In three weeks pour off clear into another bottle. This is fine for flavoring purposes when fresh mint cannot be had, and almost a sure cure for a headache when bound upon the forehead.

Currant-Mint Sauce for Game.—Separate a glass of currant jelly into pieces, but do not break; add two tablespoonfuls of fine chopped mint leaves and the thin shavings from the yellow rind of a half orange.

Mint Sherbet.—Bruise a heaping cup of mint leaves slightly, pour over them a pint of boiling water and steep, covered, for 20 minutes. Add a cup of sugar and the grated yellow rind or the juice of a lemon, cover again and leave until cold. Strain and pour into the freezer can pack with equal quantities of salt and ice and freeze to a mushlike consistency. Scrape off the sides and dasher and cover until ready to serve. For state occasions this same sherbet may be enriched by adding the juice of three oranges, the same amount of pineapple juice and when half frozen the whites of two eggs beaten stiff. A wineglass of any preferred wine may also be added if desired.

In Drying Mint.—In drying any of the mint family for winter use, pick before blossoming time, hang in the garret heads down or on sheets of paper spread on the floor of an unused room. When quite dry put into paper bags again with heads down, fasten tightly and suspend from a beam for future reference.

Grape Sponge Pudding.—Make grape juice by washing purple grapes, then mash or pulp them and cook slowly till soft, then strain. Take one cup grape juice, one cup water, half and thickened with two heaping tablespoons of cornstarch and pinch of salt, wet with a little cold water, add one-half cup sugar and stir constantly till thick. Let it cook (in double boiler) while beating the whites of two eggs to a stiff froth, then pour the hot mixture onto the eggs, stirring briskly till all white is out of sight. Serve cold custard sauce made with yolks of two eggs, two heaping tablespoons of sugar, one even tablespoon of sifted pastry flour, one-fourth teaspoon of salt and one pint of hot milk. Cook till thickened, stirring constantly.

Tomato Timbale.—Boil half a pound of macaroni 20 minutes, strain it, and cut into lengths which will fit a plain round mold; line the mold with it, arranging the top by bending the macaroni in a spiral form. Fill this mold with a mixture made of one pound of tomatoes, one pound of mushrooms and a quarter-pound of grated cheese, all pounded together with four ounces of butter and the yolk of an egg, season with a little salt and red pepper. Put a paper round the mold and steam for one hour. Turn out and serve with a thick gravy, or tomato sauce, round. This makes an excellent first course dish for luncheon.

Crumb Pie.—Three cups of flour, one cup of sugar, one scant cup of butter and lard. Mix into crumbs. Take out half cup crumbs, add one cup New Orleans molasses, one teaspoon soda into one cup of hot water. Stir and let foam into crumbs and molasses. For pies divide into four medium pie tins lined with crust, or bake in dripping pan, lined with paper. Lastly, sprinkle half cup crumbs on top. Bake in moderate oven.

Honey on Grapefruit.—A novel way of sweetening grapefruit is the use of honey in place of sugar. If the fruit is to be used for breakfast prepare it the night before, loosening the pulp from the skin and membrane; then pour over it enough honey to cover. In the morning the flavor will be found excellent.

Halpin Case.—Why has no one ever thought of this before—a dainty little linen bag, scalloped and embroidered, to hold the supply of halpins?

FARM STOCK

Beware of Unsound Horses

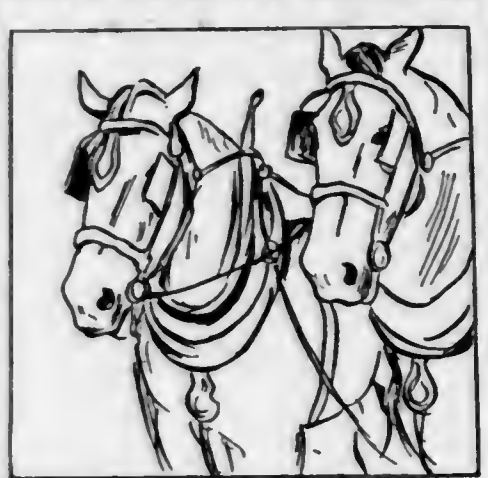

So-Called "Trifles" Often Show Weakness Which Is Liable to Be Transmitted to Foal.

(By J. M. BELL.)
Well, the main question is, what sort of horses do you want to raise? In the first place the difference in the cost of raising a scrub and a properly bred horse is nothing like as great as the price that you will get when the colts arrive at maturity and the difference will all be in favor of the well-bred one—certainly in nine cases out of ten.

The buyers in the big cities want horses that are bred on certain lines. The drafts must have weight and bone; the roadsters speed; the saddle horse galts and carriage and so on, each according to his kind.

Now, brother farmer, read the market reports in your farm and daily papers and see if I am not right about the classification and prices of horses when they are sold for the "high dollar" and then note the prices paid for chunks, which are generally no-descript.

Whatever you do, beware of the unsound stallion of any breed, for although you may be told by the owner or groom that such troubles as "just a slight put" on the inside of hock, "just a little narrow about the heels," or "just a little enlargement about the knees," but "sound as a dollar," and numbers of other trifles, so called, you will find that in the course of years of breeding horses that unsoundness in limbs or feet shows a manifest weakness and this weakness is very likely to be transmitted to the foal.

Well-Bred Farm Horses.

The writer well recalls a case in point when a thoroughbred stallion of high merit, superb breeding and splendid racing record became injured very badly on the fore foot which put a quietus to his turf career, the injury developed into a pumiced foot, the whole foot being abnormally large.

This stallion was placed in the stud and was sire to quite a number of good colts, but several of them developed club foot. So by all means breed to a sound horse.

TREATMENT OF YOUNG FOALS

Better to Leave Youngsters in Roomy, Clean, Well Ventilated Paddock Than to Keep Them in a Stable.

Foals should not be allowed to follow their dams when the latter have been put to work. Besides causing much trouble for the teamster, they do not develop as rapidly as when they are left in a comfortable stable. Better that they be left in a roomy, clean, well ventilated stable or paddock while their dams are at work. If there be more than one they will furnish company for one another and can be left in the same paddock. It is necessary, however, that the foals be allowed to suckle more frequently than the regular feeding time during the first two months of their life if they are to do their best.

Besides being allowed to remain with their dams at night and at feeding time, the mares should be brought to their foals once about the middle of the morning and evening. Great care should always be taken, however, that the foals are not allowed to suckle while the mares are very warm for this practice will soon develop into digestive troubles.

ONE OF BEST DISINFECTANTS

We Should Take Advantage of Sunlight at Every Opportunity—Destroys Disease Germs.

Sunlight is one of the best and cheapest disinfectants at our disposal, and we should take advantage of this fact at every opportunity. In the construction of barns or shelters of any kind for animals, ample provision should be made for the admission of the maximum amount of sunlight. Southern exposure is desirable, that is, having the majority of the windows facing the south. The warmth this provides in cold weather is desirable, and much of the excessive heat in summer can be avoided by providing suitable curtains or screens. Most disease germs are easily killed by direct sunlight, as has been repeatedly shown by experiments.

Sheep Run Meadow.—A flock of sheep on a tender meadow will quickly ruin it by their sharp hoofs and their eagerness to get all the green grass.

Dizzy Head, Fluttering Heart, Floating Specks.—These are signs of kidney and bladder trouble. You'll have headaches too, backaches and be tired all over. Don't wait longer, but begin taking Foley's Kidney Pills at once. It won't be long before your miserable sick feeling will be gone. You will sleep well, eat well and grow strong and active again. ## GROSS AS TWO STICKS

By ALLIE FORD.

"There!" exclaimed the little stenographer, taking her watch from her belt and setting it in front of her. "I'm going to hold my breath till it's five o'clock and then I'm going to run! I've always felt above watching the clock, but I'm beginning to understand a few things! Besides, I've had a horrible time today trying to get ready for the Fourth."

The bookkeeper slid his ledgers back on the shelf. "Now what's the matter?" he asked, with an exaggerated air of resignation.

"Oh, I'm tired to a frazzle and as gross as two sticks!" The little stenographer exploded.

"Well, don't take it out on me!" objected the bookkeeper amiably. "What has happened, anyway?"

"Everything!" returned the little stenographer dramatically. "I've been turned into a housekeeper, general utility man—anything, but the stenographer I thought I was, the stenographer trying to get things shipshape in preparation for the holiday."

"This morning I had to devote two solid hours to checking up his club bills for Mr. Gray! And my flies a mile behind, waiting for a clear minute! If those men don't hear my typewriter machine rattle they think I've nothing to do! And they bother around for an hour to think up something to help me pass the time. Mr. Gray smiled generously when he handed me his bills, as if he were giving me the time of my life by permitting me to see how he spends his money—and incidentally keep his personal accounts for him!"

"When I finished that Mr. Nicholas called me in and said his wife had asked him if I wouldn't be so kind as to write out her club programs for the whole of next year! The club was about to adjourn until fall and it was saving money by doing its own programs instead of having them printed. Mr. Nicholas beamed on me as if he were conferring an honor upon me that could never be estimated in letting me get so close to his wife's club as to spend a few hours writing out the club programs! Then she'll feel so righteous when spending on charity the money I've saved for her, when the full credit—well, it belongs elsewhere, if I do say it myself!"

"Just when I was working as hard as I could to get that finished, so that I could get started all that awful thing, who should come out and look over my shoulder but Mr. Brown himself! I could tell that he thought I was presuming a good deal in writing something that was not business letters, so I hastened to explain what it was I was doing. That gave him an idea and he went back into his office and returned presently with his silk gloves. 'Won't you please, when you have a little time, just catch these threads together?' he asked. And he showed me fingers of his gloves that were almost entirely gone at the tips! 'Catch them together!' Why, I had positively to crochet new tips on them! And I didn't dare do anything but my very careful work for him."

"That's the way it's been all day long! Mr. Gray asked me to pack his suitcase—from that drawer where he keeps shirts and collars, you know—for he had to go out of town for the Fourth. And while I was at that Mr. Vandewater had a bright idea. He suggested that I phone a reservation for him—and then run down and get it! And—oh, well, what's the use? I'm going home!"

She half arose from her chair. As she did so Mr. Brown emerged hastily from his office.

"Here," he said, "I've got to run for my train. Will you shut my desk and close the window and sign the letters I left there?"

The little stenographer nodded and said no word.

"And," called the bookkeeper, as he poked his head back through the door as he was leaving, "don't forget to put the cat out and wind the clock!"

Delmonico Meat.

He had heard several old miners who had for many years been living a rough frontier life discussing what they would do when they had "made their piles" and could return with riches "to the states."

"Well," said the grizzled old veteran, "I know what I'll do. I'll go as straight as the car'll take me to New York, and when I get there I'll make a bee line for Delmonico's and I'll get the blankety-blanket dinner that money can buy. I don't care if it costs me $50, I'll have it!"

"Now, what do you think you would order," queried Fred, with some curiosity, "if you were to go into Delmonico's for a $50 dinner?"

"Well, I dunno; but I guess I'd have some ham and eggs—yes, I would; I'd have some ham and eggs!"

How Carlebad Got Name.—An American who says he has "nothing to do between drinks," has estimated that Carlebad is now entering upon the five hundred and fifty-sixth season—at least, if there is any faith to be placed in the old chronicles. They ascribe the discovery of the medicinal properties of the "Sprudel" to Charles IV. in 1358—or, rather, to the pack of this famous huntsman, which, while in hot pursuit of a stag, fell into the boiling caldron and had to be fished out more dead than alive. Hence the "Carls" and hence the "Bad."

Dizzy Head, Fluttering Heart, Floating Specks.—These are signs of kidney and bladder trouble. You'll have headaches too, backaches and be tired all over. Don't wait longer, but begin taking Foley's Kidney Pills at once. It won't be long before your miserable sick feeling will be gone. You will sleep well, eat well and grow strong and active again. They are a tonic and your entire system as well as kidneys and bladder will be benefited by their use. Try them. For sale by all dealers everywhere.

Big Sale of Revenue Stamps.

With sales of whisky stamps totaling more than $85,000, the top mark in the rushing business which has been done by the Louisville revenue office, was reached Tuesday last. For the past ten days the sale of stamps has been more than double the usual mark, and the explanation is offered that distillers are laying in a supply of stamps because of the agitation in Congress to increase the tax on whisky to make up for the falling off of import duties since the start of the European war.

According to W. P. Yancey, cashier in the revenue office, the situation at present is the same as it was when the tax was raised from 90 cents to $1.10 and many distillers laid in a supply of stamps to be used after the advance became effective. One distiller Tuesday sent in a check for more than $20,000 worth of stamps, the biggest sale that has been made since Mr. Yancey has been cashier. Almost $75,000 worth of the stamps sold Tuesday were disposed of to Louisville distillers.

Cost Kept Down—Quality Kept Up.

No better medicine could be made for coughs, colds, croup, hoarseness, tickling throat, bronchitis, etc., than Foley's Honey and Tar Compound. That's why they can't improve the quality, and war or no war, the price remains the same. E. J. Sargent, Dallas, Tex., says: "I believe Foley's Honey and Tar has no equal for it completely relieved me of all symptoms of tuberculosis and my cough has entirely disappeared." Don't accept any substitute, for Foley's Honey and Tar is the best. For sale by all dealers everywhere.

A young lady took down the receiver and discovered that the telephone was in use. "I just put on a pot of beans for dinner," she heard one woman complacently informing another.

She hung up the receiver and waited. Three times she waited and then, exasperated, she broke into the conversation.

"Madam, I smell your beans burning," she announced crisply. A horrified scream greeted the remark and the young lady was then able to put in her call.

When Beckham retired as Governor of Kentucky, says the Cadiz Record, he left a handsome new capitol building and over a million dollars in the treasury; when Willson retired as Governor of Kentucky four years later he had spent this million dollars, was in debt a million and a half more and had not built anything. Then is there an honest Democrat or Republican, with a reasonable amount of business ability, that will hesitate for a moment as to where he will put his mark in November.—Danville Messenger.

Kentucky Horses Decrease in Value.

The Kentucky horse has decreased $1 in value during the past year, but the total number of horses on the farms of this State is the same as it was a year ago. The Kentucky horse is now worth $103, according to valuations recently placed on him by the U. S. Department of Agriculture. A year ago he was worth $104. On January 10, 1914, there were 443,000 horses on the farms of Kentucky and they were worth $45,620,000. Compared with other States Kentucky ranks 18th, both in number and value of horses, but in quality of horses she takes first place. Kentucky is famed the world over for her fine blooded horses.

In the entire United States there are 20,962,900 horses, valued at $2,291,631,000, or $108.33 each.

COULD SCARCELY WALK ABOUT

And For Three Summers Mrs. Vincent Was Unable to Attend to Any of Her Housework.

Pleasant Hill, N. C.—"I suffered for three summers," writes Mrs. Walter Vincent, of this town, "and the third and last time, was my worst. I had dreadful nervous headaches and prostration, and was scarcely able to walk about. Could not do any of my housework."

I also had dreadful pains in my back and sides and when one of those weak, sinking spells would come on me, I would have to give up and lie down, until it wore off.

I was certainly in a dreadful state of health, when I finally decided to try Cardui, the woman's tonic, and I firmly believe I would have died if I hadn't taken it.

After I began taking Cardui, I was greatly helped, and all three bottles relieved me entirely. I fattened up, and grew so much stronger in three months, I felt like another person altogether."

Cardui is purely vegetable and gentle-acting. Its ingredients have a mild, tonic effect, on the womanly constitution.

Cardui makes for increased strength, improves the appetite, tones up the nervous system, and helps to make pale, sallow cheeks, fresh and rosy.

Cardui has helped more than a million weak women, during the past 30 years. It will surely do for you, what it has done for them. Try Cardui today.

English Infantry on the March

When Germany declared war on Russia there was the greatest activity in the English army. It is plain that with a general war on the continent it would be impossible for England to keep out of it. It was figured that the English Infantry would give a good account of itself.

Wanted---Good Homes For Children.

The Kentucky Children's Home Society now has in its institution 204 children who are in need of homes. These children range in age from three months to 14 years and they are possibly the brightest and most attractive set of boys and girls we have ever had.

The success of our work depends upon placing them in good homes and we trust that those citizens who are willing to help in the work will notify us of their willingness to take a child and will write the Institution—1086 Baxter Avenue, Louisville, at their earliest convenience.

We do not mean by this that we expect only rich people to take the children, for some of the very best placements we make are with people who are in moderate circumstances.

The Master's saying, "Inasmuch as ye did it to one of the least of these, my brethren, ye have done it unto me," possibly was meant for just such work as this and at just such a time as this.

Respectfully,
 Geo. Schurz,
 State Supl.

 A Hoosier Cabinet makes a Model Kitchen

Why Do 700,000 Women Own Hoosier Cabinets?

When you know that 700,000 women use Hoosier Kitchen Cabinets three times every day, doesn't it suggest to you that you need this drudgery-saver in YOUR kitchen?

Figure it out to yourself this way: Would they have bought these cabinets without convincing themselves that they SAVE MILES OF STEPS and hours of time? Would so many have bought them at all if users hadn't told others and thus influenced their friends to buy them.

Since this means that more Hoosier Cabinets have been sold than all other 128 makes of cabinets combined, isn't it proof enough that the Hoosier is the best cabinet on the market?

When you see how the Hoosier groups four cupboards around a large metal table and places 400 articles at your fingers' ends so you can sit down and work AND REST while working—you'll want one of these "White Beauties."

Come pick one out today.

NOTES AND COMMENTS.

BY W. P. WALTON.

The writer thanks the editor of the Climax for a very neat compliment and endorsement for Prison Commissioner, but it was not to be. He is in receipt of a letter from the Governor, who is at Atlantic City, who says while he appreciates the service we have rendered the Democratic party and our almost unbroken support of him that he has promised the place to another. It was ever thus from childhood's hour, we've seen our fondest hopes decay; we never asked for office, before and now found that 'twas given away.

Congressman Rouse, of the Sixth district, is a man after our own heart. He is a firm believer in the Jacksonian doctrine that to the victors belong the spoils and that when the people voted to put the Democrats in power, they intended that they should have all the offices from President down. Mr. Rouse accordingly went to work and began weeding out the Republican postmasters, till now with the appointment of Mr. Rule as postmaster at Palmouth, the announcement is made that every office in the district is manned by Democrats. Hurrah for Rouse! May his example be emulated, especially by Congressman Helm, till every Republican in the Eighth district is made to walk the plank to give place to those who have borne the labor and heat of the day without a smell of the fleshpots till now. Turn the rascals out.

The leader of a band of kidnapers in New York has been sentenced to fifty years in prison. As he is forty, he will hardly live to serve the full sentence. It is a pity the law does not provide the death penalty for the crime of stealing children and holding them for ransom or murder them if the fiend fails to secure it. Many a mother has been driven to the insane asylum by it and fathers have given their all to have their loved ones returned to them.

A Republican paper in the Eleventh district says many voters are against Governor Wilson for the United States Senate because he "felt his oats" too much while he was the State's executive. We rise to deny the allegation and defy the alligators. We saw a good deal of the Honorable Augustus while he held forth at Frankfort and never heard such a charge before. He was, of course, proud of being governor of this grand old Commonwealth and fond of exhibiting himself, but that was natural. It is a big thing for a Republican to be governor. Apropos of this his wife told us a good one on him. They were on the train en route for Louisville one day, when a backwoodsman hearing that the Governor was aboard climbed into the coach to see the show. Stalking to where the Governor sat he inquired: "Is you the Governor?" and being proudly answered by that gentleman in the affirmative, said: "Well, by golly, you ain't much of a looker, is you?" The laugh of those who heard the remark drowned the Governor's answer if he vouchsafed a reply.

Among the many horrible things for which the European war is responsible is that the ladies will not be able to get the Parisian fashions and will have to endure the styles they have until the cruel war is over. But it is an anomalous state of affairs that this country should rely on Europe for anything, especially the fashions, which could be started here better than anywhere else.

The anxiety of Americans to get out of the war zone and breathe the air of freedom in their native land again, is shown in the fact that when the Baltic arrived in the New York port the other day it was found that 700 were stored away in the hold, some of them men rich enough almost to buy a ship. It was known that a great many Americans go abroad, but until the war broke out, greatness of the number was scarcely imagined. Many go on business, but the larger number because it is fashionable and sounds big.

The local option fight is warming up in Lexington and has now reached the street orator stage. Both sides are bringing their best speakers to the front and halls and churches resound with their alleged eloquence. About the only result of the effort will be to create bad blood and cause lasting estrangement among friends. It hasn't a chance to carry.

A link in the long chain of unfaithful and cowardly jailers has been broken by the jailer of Bourbon county, who defended a prisoner at the risk of his own life and shot to kill when the mob began to roughly handle him. The cowardly make-up of mobs was again displayed when the men fed in confusion after the jailer, single-handed, opened fire. There was little excuse for the attempted lawlessness. The man wanted was a negro and was sure of the punishment, he deserved. It is regrettable one of the mob was killed, but if his death will put a stop to lynch law it will not have been in vain. Jailers are rendered a distinct service to the majesty of the law and shown his regard for the sacredness of an oath by furnishing an object lesson to those who would take the law into their own hands that they do so at the peril of their lives. All honor to him.

This season of the year should recall to those who are out of the ark of safety the lamentation of Jeremiah, who exclaimed: "The harvest is past, the summer is ended and I am not saved."

Everman and Mr. Preston Bales, son of the host and hostess, presided at the punch bowl. Twenty-five happy guests enjoyed the delightful occasion.—Bourbon News.

Mrs. L. B. Weisenburg gave a pretty dance party on Monday evening at her beautiful home, Westover Terrace, for her house guests, Miss Hanly and Mr. Sneed. The house was beautifully decorated in garden flowers and a provision of Clematis, and at intermission delightful refreshments of ices and cakes were served. Mrs. Weisenburg's guests were: Misses Jane Stouffer, Callie Shackelford, Elizabeth Turley, Tommie Cole and Margaret Covington, Russell Stouffer, Dorothy Perry, and Miss Mildred Taylor, of Lexington; Messrs. Thomas Baldwin, George Goodwin, John Powell, William Collins, Joe Prewitt Chennault, William Wallace, Harry Hanger, Wm. Smith, Preston Smith, Dudley Bennett, Curtis Bennett, Barnett Chennault, Hart Perry, and Messdames D. L. Cobb, J. H. Deau and D. M. Chennault.

Miss Austin Lilly has returned from North Carolina, after an extended visit with relatives.

Mr. Wallace Henry son of Mr. C. B. Henry of Louisville is spending several weeks with relatives here.

Mrs. Ella Buckley and son Charles of Indianapolis Indiana returned home Friday after a few weeks stay with relatives here.

Mr. Lewis Nelson Kearns, of Harrison County after spending several days with relatives in this county has returned home.

Mrs. Nannie Long, of Danville, and Mrs. Eleanor Murphy, of Portland, Ore., visited Mr. R. E. Baker and family, Sunday.

Mr. W. D. Oldham left Saturday for Cincinnati, Chicago and New York to buy goods. With excellent crops in this and surrounding counties Mr. Oldham believes business will be good this Fall and Winter and will buy an unusually large stock to meet the demand.

Mr. and Mrs. Ambrose Wagers, of Cincinnati, well known and popular in this city, were host and hostess of a delightful party last week at their home in the Queen City. In the party were Misses Hattie Lee Millon, Elizabeth and Mary Wagers of this city; Miss Hazel Houston, of Paris and Mr. Winston Spears of Lexington. The young folks report a most delightful visit and genuine Kentucky hospitality.

One of the most delightful social events of the entire summer was the dance given on Thursday evening at the Masonic Temple by the Young Ladies of the city. The Temple was beautiful in palms, ferns and a profusion of sunflowers and golden glow, and during the hours frappe and sandwiches were served, the frappe table being graciously presided over by Messdames Joe Chennault and H. L. Perry. Messrs. Russell Stouffer and Margaret Covington were the committee in charge and the other hostesses were Misses Elizabeth Turley, Elsie Buchanan, Tommie Cole and Hester Covington, Margaret Collins, Julia White, Mary D. Pickels, Mary Katherine White, Callie Shackelford, Jane Stockton, Jane Goodloe, Nancy Haden, Mary Louise Deatherage, Henrietta Luxon, Elizabeth Phillips, Edwin Turley, Edwin Shipp, Hanger, Hugh Cassidy, Robert Foster, Mattie Russell White, Messdames Emerson, Gwynne, J. Miss Proctor, of Lexington, has just returned from the eastern cities studying designs in millinery. She will be with B. E. Belue & Co. the E. Main street milliners this season.

Mr. and Mrs. Wearen Cook, Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Cook and Miss Margaret Tip-ton, motored from Lexington Sunday and spent the day with the family of Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Gott on East Main street.

Mr. A. J. Suit of the Racket Store, and wife left yesterday for the eastern markets to buy goods for the holiday trade. They will visit Columbus, Cleveland and other cities.

Mr. B. E. Belue left Tuesday for Cleveland markets to buy millinery and other goods for his E. Main street store and also to select wall cases for the better display of their stock.

Mrs. Joutet was in Lexington yesterday, an invited guest at a dinner given at the Old Fellows home by Grand Master, C. B. Hatfield. Mrs. Joutet is a daughter of that most excellent institution, the widows and orphans home.

Mr. Vance Rawson and Mrs. Rawson, of Danville, motored to Richmond, Sunday, and spent the day with Mr. and Mrs. Gilbert Grinstead. They brought with them their two children, a son and daughter, and Miss Clifton, of Michigan.

The friends of Mrs. G. M. Brooks will learn with pleasure that she has sufficiently recovered from her operation at a Richmond hospital to be removed to the home of her parents in Kenton county, where she will go to recuperate.—Carlisle Democrat.

A telephone message from Richmond to Rev. W. E. Arnold, stated that his daughter, Mrs. H. A. Dorsey will be brought to Danville from the hospital at that place today. Her improvement has been very slow, but hope is entertained for her final recovery.—Danville Messenger, Aug. 28.

The following beautifully engraved announcement cards have been received in Richmond, where Miss Warfield has often visited Miss Russell Stouffer. She is beautiful and attractive and made many friends during her visits here, who offer her congratulations over the happy event: "Mr. and Mrs. Charles Percy Warfield announce the marriage of their daughter, Elizabeth Amanda, to Mr. Frazier Pittman Ely, at Monday, August 24, 1914, Clarksville, Tennessee."

Miss Sarah Stone, of Richmond, was the guest of honor at a lawn party given by Mr. and Mrs. C. P. Bales, at their home on Second street, Friday night.

The occasion was the celebration of the birthday anniversary of Miss Stone, who is a sister of the hostess. The lawn was brilliantly lighted with Japanese lanterns. A large part of the very enjoyable evening was spent in dancing, after which ices, cakes and bon-bons were served to the numerous guests. Miss Mary D. Everman and Mr. Preston Bales, son of the host and hostess, presided at the punch bowl. Twenty-five happy guests enjoyed the delightful occasion.—Bourbon News.

New Buildings Being Erected.

Mr. Andrew House is erecting on his farm on the Lancaster pike a $6,000.00 residence. Bowman Brothers, contractors, of this city, drew the plans and have the contract to build it.

Prof. W. E. Gwynne is erecting in Burnamwood a school building for the conducting of his select school for boys.
Geo. H. Myers has the contract.

Took His Own Life.

Sunday morning about four o'clock
Mr. William Tevis, a prosperous farmer and a bachelor, about fifty years of age, living with his mother, Mrs. Noah Tevis, at Moberly, this county, dressed himself and going to the barn hung himself. Death occurred from strangulation.
His remains were not discovered for several hours afterwards. His family and friends can offer no reason for the rash act.

At a meeting of the stockholders of the Madison Tobacco Warehouse Company, held in Richmond Tuesday last,
it was decided to raise the capital stock from $33,000 to $40,000. The following officers were elected: E. C. Million, president; T. J. Curtis, vice-president;
C. H. Vaughn, secretary; Elmer Deatherage, treasurer. The directors are T.
J. Smith, E. C. Million, C. H. Vaughn,
M. Haden, Marion Coy and T. J. Curtis.

Frank Leslie Russell
Attorney-at-Law.

The first duties that will probably devolve upon Mr. Frank Leslie Russell, of Richmond, will be to have his shingle hung out, with the above style caption.
Mr. Russell, after a highly satisfactory examination, before J. E. Robinson and Judge Lewis L. Walker, who were appointed by Judge Hardin, was granted a certificate to practice law at the bar of the Circuit Court here Wednesday-- Lancaster Record.

It is now attorney Frank Leslie Russell.
Mr. Russell has been for several years quietly reading law, so quietly indeed that few even of his intimate friends knew it. He made formal application
recently to Hon. Chas. A. Hardin, Judge of the Thirteenth Judicial district, for license to practice law, and last week he went to Lancaster to take the examination. The Court appointed Hon. J. E.
Robinson, former county attorney, and
Hon. Lewis L. Walker, ex Judge of the Thirteenth Judicial district, two members of the bar of the Garrard Circuit Court, as the board of examiners. After a rigid examination lasting nearly three hours, it was their unanimous opinion that Mr. Russell was well qualified and entitled to a license, whereupon the Court issued him a license to practice law in any court within the State of Kentucky, and his name was enrolled on the roster of the attorneys of the Garrard Circuit Court.

County Court Day.

Next Monday will be county court day and will be a mighty good time to drop into the Climax office and leave that $1 you owe us on subscription.

Colored Institute.

Teacher's Institute for colored teachers of this county was held last week and was conducted by Prof. Frank L.
Williams. Prof. Williams is a graduate of Berea College and holds a position in one of the leading public schools of St.
Louis. Supt. H. H. Brock says it was one of the best institutes ever held in the county.

Methodist Conference.

Methodist Conference of the Danville district in which Richmond is included is in session at Wilmore this week. It is estimated that probably two hundred delegates will be in attendance. Rev.
W. M. Williams and wife, of the College
Hill circuit, and Dr. Horton, of this city, are in attendance. We hope to be able
in our next issue to give the assignments
of the bishop for the coming year.

Held Up And Robbed.

Friday night about 11 o'clock Mr.
William Wallace was returning to his home in Burnamwood, when he was approached by two men and ordered to give up his watch, money and other valuables. Realizing that resistance would be useless and recognizing the fact that "discretion is the better part of valor," Mr. Wallace made no resistance. The robbers secured a handsome gold watch
Mr. Wallace valued far beyond its intrinsic worth and a small amount of change. Seventeen dollars in paper money which he had in an inside pocket was overlooked. The robbers fled and no clue has been found as to who they were, whence they came or whither they went.

Colored School Opens.

The colored public schools opened yesterday with one of the strongest faculties in the history of the school. Three changes have been made in the faculty.
Miss Geneva Bender, of Nashville, Tenn., will have charge of the music. Here is what her principal says: "If you will have elected to the position of music on my recommendation, Miss Bender, you will make no mistake. No one can read or teach notes more fluently than she.
She sings like a nightingale and is a favorite of music people of Nashville."

Miss Victoria Matheas, a graduate of the Cheney Domestic Science and Arts School, Cheney, Pa., will bring new life to this department of our school, which means so much to our girls towards giving better service and earning more for their labors. We are having almost daily calls for girls from this department and it is gratifying to us to learn that they are in demand because of their superior services in the homes. They are taught neatness, cleanliness and how to do housework in general. The people for whom they are working tell us that they know our girls by their work.

Miss Josephine Davis, of Louisville, a graduate of Fisk University, comes to us with many years of experience and will assist in High School work.

Closing Out Sale.

James B. Parke, formerly a grocery-man of this city and more recently of Newby, has decided to quit business. He offers his entire stock of dry goods, notions, shoes, queensware and groceries at cost. This is a splendid opportunity for some enterprising man to buy it as a whole and continue business or for the people of that locality to buy just what they want at cost and less. Go and see or telephone 263 X.

Horses Wanted.

One hundred good, smooth mares and geldings. Will be in Richmond Monday, Sept. 7, County Court Day, at Bob Walker's stable.

Special Attention.

Special attention is called to the sale of Mrs. Elizabeth Crowe's property, advertised in this issue. This is a good opportunity for some one to buy a good home in one of the best localities in this city.

Nice, modern residence in Burnam-wood for sale. J. F. Stone. 3-tf.

SILVER CREEK.

Miss Jessie Tatem has returned to her home in Lancaster, after a delightful visit with friends here.

Miss Nellie Bressler, of Owensboro, is the guest of Mrs. Barbara Koop.

Miss Ella Robinson, of Mt. Vernon, is the charming guest of her sister, Mrs.
Matt Rhodes.

W. C. West, wife and little daughter,
Evelyn, have returned from a visit to Speedwell.

Mrs. C. E. Gaines entertained with an elegant 6 o'clock dinner Thursday, in honor of her sister, Mrs. Glass, of Miss-sissippi.

Miss Sallie Meeks is visiting Miss Alma Jones, in Richmond.

Fred Davidson, of Richmond, is visiting his grandmother, Mrs. E. O. Farris.
Mr. and Mrs. Sam Kelly are rejoicing over the arrival of a fine boy.

Clarence Anderson, who has been ill
for the past week, is able to be out again.

Sunday School Convention.

The Christian Bible Schools of Madison county met in annual convention at Speedwell August 25. The convention was called to order at 9:30 a. m. despite the downpour of rain which came at intervals throughout the day. There was a representative crowd of about five hundred, a number of whom were enthusiastic officers and workers of the various Bible schools throughout the county.
Most all of the schools were represented.
The largest delegation was that from the Glad school, there being twenty-five who came in a body with their banner and colors.

W. E. Frazer, State Superintendent of Bible School Work, and one of the busiest men in the State, was unable to be present but he was ably and eloquently represented by Mrs. John S. Asbury, State Elementary Superintendent. So much was she enjoyed and appreciated that all regretted when they could hear her no more.

The program was made up of vital and interesting subjects pertaining to Bible school and church work, most everyone responding to the subjects selected or assigned to them. The repast at noon was bountiful and delicious and was enjoyed by all.

The committee appointed to select officers for the ensuing year recommended that the old officers be retained, who are as follows: J. W. Wilson, of White Hall, President; Dr. Coomer, Speedwell, Vice-president; Miss Elizabeth Helton, Kirksville, Secretary. It was also decided that the work in the county needed an Elementary Superintendent and Miss Alice Whitlock, of Kirksville, was selected. The convention adjourned at 4
p. m. to meet at Union City in 1915.

When Russia mobilizes she mobilizes.
She now has 2,000,000 men on the German frontier, 500,000 on the Turkish frontier and 3,000,000 men held in reserve.

Durham House.

Circumstances over which I have no control, make it necessary for me to depend entirely on the boarding house for my support. I therefore ask my friends and the general public for their patronage. Thanking all for past favors, I ask a continuation of same.

Respectfully,
Mrs. Susan J. Durham.

KINGSTON.

A number of neighbors attended the Union Sunday-school picnic Saturday.
In spite of the rain, the crowd went just the same, and everybody seemed to enjoy the day.

Misses Lelia and Mabel Flannery, who have been spending several months at Battle Creek, Michigan, returned home Saturday.

Russell Doty, who has been in ill health for the past few months, expects to leave soon for Texas. We hope that the change will be of great benefit to him.

Mr. Brack Maupin and family are sojourning at Mallory Springs.

Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Greene went to Red House the latter part of last week to see his sister, who is quite ill.

A revival meeting is in progress at the Baptist church.

Mr. and Mrs. Kit Parks are rejoicing over the arrival of a fine boy, who made his appearance on the 25th ult.

Miss Nannie Morris left Saturday for an extended visit to her niece, Mrs. Lunsford, in Nicholasville.

There will be a ball game here Saturday at 1 p. m.--Big Hill vs. Kingston. A close game is expected.

BEREA.

Mrs. Lewis Lester and children are visiting Harry McClure and family for a few days.

Dr. and Mrs. P. Cornelius and little daughter, Helen, arrived Saturday from Fleming on a visit of several days to relatives and friends.

Willie B. Adams and wife, of Kingston, spent Sunday with J. A. Adams.
John Muncey and family and Mrs.
Emma Reynolds motored to Richmond
Sunday and spent the day.

There was an all-day meeting and a basket dinner on the grounds, Sunday, at Hart's, near Scaffold Cane. Rro.
Hudson and several others from here gave interesting talks, which were enjoyed by all.

Harold Vanwinkle, who was operated on at the hospital last week for appendicitis, is getting along nicely.

Wallace Lutes spent Sunday with his father-in-law, Mason Anglin, in Rock castle.

PAINT LICK.

Mr. and Mrs. Walker Gwynn are rejoicing over the arrival of a baby boy at their home.

Mrs. Wm. Brown, wife of our section boss on the L. & N. railroad, died on last Thursday and was buried Sunday in the Richmond Cemetery. She leaves a husband and three daughters to mourn her loss.

Mrs. Victor Lear is with her sister, Mrs. Walker Gwynn.

Mrs. Robert Duncan and Miss Minnie Hurt have returned from a visit to Winchester.

Miss Eliza Rucker and nephew, Howard Rucker, have returned from visiting friends at Wilmore and Lexington.
Our graded school will not open until Sept. 7th.

Mrs. B. M. Lear has been spending three weeks with her son, Reid, in Mid-dlesboro.

In your last issue you made me say that our home boys were victorious in the game of base ball with White's Station. It should have been that the latter won the game.

W. G. Kemper, former cashier of the Peoples Bank, was here on insurance business recently.

Our base ball team played Richmond
last Saturday and won by the score of 4 to 2.

W. P. Caldwell and family, of Waco,
Texas, are visiting his brother, A. F.
Caldwell.

Mr. and Mrs. Hammack, of McWhorter, are the guests of Geo. Treadway and Mrs. Thos. Logston.

Harry Francis, who has been spending the summer with his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. James Francis, has left for his home at Ocmulgee, Okla.

Mrs. Anna B. Wheeler, of Henry county, delivered a lecture at the Christian church Friday night in the interest of the W. C. T. U.

Gene Edmiston, of Crab Orchard, was with Mrs. O. Rucker for a few days.

Miss Annie B. Ballard stole a march on her many friends. She slipped off from the Association at Red House on August 26 with a few friends and was married to Wm. Wylie, of Illinois. All wish them a long, happy and prosperous life.

BRASSFIELD.

Mr. and Mrs. Cash Todd gave a lawn social on last Friday evening. A large number of young people were present, as well as a few married couples. They played games on the lawn and in the house and all seemed to enjoy themselves immensely. Fruit was served by the hostess.

To the victor belongs the spoils, but
on last Saturday afternoon the victorious Blues shared their watermelons feast with the defeated Reds, in the Speedwell church yard. There were plenty of melons for all and everyone seemed to enjoy them. Just before the feast
the crowd was entertained by an instructive talk on "Palestine" by Miss Calhoun, who has had the good fortune of visiting that country. She was attired in the bridal apparel of the land, and this served in giving her audience a better idea of the people whom she talked about.

A number of people from this community have been to hear Rev. Brookshire, at the Waco Baptist church, and report
fine sermons and a large attendance.

A slight railway accident occurred at this place Tuesday, 25th ult, when the train spread under No. 2, a northbound passenger train, as it was leaving the siding, causing the drivers of the engine,
all the trucks of the tender and the front trucks of the baggage car to leave the rails. The train was delayed several hours.

Safety First.

Don't try to cross the Atlantic ocean in an aeroplane.—Safety first!
Don't accept the job of umpire in a base ball game.—Safety first!
Don't guffaw when a stout, red-faced old golfer slices his drive.—Safety first!
Don't take more than a dozen drinks when running an automobile.—Safety first!
Don't call a bigger man than yourself a blank, dashed prevaricator.—Safety first!
Don't, while in bathing, flirt with the lifeguard's best girl.—Safety first!
Don't wear a bright orange necktie at Hibernian picnic.—Safety first!
Don't blow down a gun barrel to see if it's loaded.—Safety first!

War Echoes.

Luck is to be found in pluck and in a mighty few other places.
The wheat growers think that there is a golden lining to the war cloud.
This is going to be a serious war after all. Word comes from Missouri that the demand for mules has almost doubled in a few days.
We Americans in our fixed determination to be neutral should be careful in hotels to stifle preference for "French fried" or "German fried" potatoes and order them American style.
One trouble about a mountain feud war is that there aren't enough survivors to hold a reunion afterwards.
You needn't rejoice, Johnny, for the great many teachers have been stranded in Europe on account of the war, there'll be enough to run all of the schools.
With both a vast supply of grain and a demand for it in sight, the calamity prophet cannot expect a very sympathetic audience.
But when those Americans who are now in Europe do get home, just think of the stories they will have to tell! And how they will revel in the telling of them!

WHITE HALL.

(Delayed.)
John Adams, of this place, spent Saturday night and Sunday with Mr. Kit Hardin, at Red House and attended the dance at Boonesboro.
The Dozier school gave a "pie supper" Thursday night and it was well attended. The teacher, Miss Lillian Maupin, is a very attractive and capable young lady.
Mrs. R. E. Adams and daughter, Miss Nancy, spent the week-end with friends at College Hill.
Miss Cecil Meeks entertained a few of her friends with a social on last Saturday night.
The Science Hill school will give an ice cream supper next Saturday night. All are invited.
Protracted meeting is in progress at Old Republican church, formerly known as Tate's Creek church, conducted by Rev. Shearer.
There was a reunion of Mr. and Mrs. Valentine Hardin's sons and daughters last Sunday at the home of their parents, "Hardin's Flat." Those present were—Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Adams, of Speedwell; Mrs. Albert Hardin, of Richmond; Mrs. Laura Crutcher and little daughter, of Frankfort; Miss Mary and Mr. Kit Hardin, of Red House, and Mr. John Adams, of White Hall.

A Fable Revised.

The grasshopper knocked humbly at the door of the ant's prosperous looking home.
"What do you want?" said the ant, in a thin, hard voice.
"A little food and shelter from the cold winds," replied the grasshopper. "I can feel the icy hand of winter clutching at my throat!"
"And may I ask," said the unsympathetic ant, "how comes it that you have wasted the summer?"
"The sun shone bright; everything was gay and I did naught but dance from morn till night!"
"Why didn't you tell me that before?" asked the ant, smiling her very sweetest smile. "Come right in and make yourself at home. I've been too busy to learn the new dances, and, if you'll teach me, you can name your own price."

Black Fridays.

Among those days of the week on which great financial crisis have taken place, Friday undoubtedly occupies the leadership.
The original black Friday was December 6, 1745, with a run on the Bank of England, caused by the progress of the Pretender.
Black Friday, May 11, 1866, was the day Overend, Gurney & Co. failed in London; one of the worst up to that time.
Black Friday, September 24, 1869, a disastrous day for the United States, caused by efforts to corner gold, called the "Gold Conspiracy," and referred to as the most extraordinary day in Wall Street history.
Black Friday, September 19, 1873, the great financial crash which was followed by a widespread panic.
Friday, July 31, 1914, Germany proclaimed a state of war and the New York Stock Exchange remained closed to avert a disaster.

Got Their Eyes on Him.

The home printer, the home furniture dealer, the home clothing merchant, the home grocer the home druggist, the home hardware man, the dry goods merchant, the home shoe merchant, the home loose-leaf tobacco man, the home farmer, the home plumber, the home house builder and carpenter, the home man who spends his money here and gets his living here, all have their eyes on the citizen who advises his neighbors to patronize home industry, but spends his own money elsewhere. And who can blame them?

Land, Stock, Crop

John Robinson, of Boyle county, purchased various parties 5 aged mules at $125 each.

Top hogs last week on the Chicago market reached $9.55—55c lower than the previous week, with an average price of $9.05 against an average price of $9.40 the previous week.

Death from fright was the unusual fate of a fine mule belonging to Jesse Gray, of Salem. The mule was at the station in Marion and had never seen a train. When an engine came in he reared up, tried in vain to get away and finally fell dead.

M. E. Lawrence, of Stanford, bought a nice 2-year-old mare mule from John Cross, of Preachersville, for $100.

J. E. Robinson, of Garrard county, bought a pair of horse mules from C. A. Kern, of Perryville, for $305.

Jas. Hunt, of Stanford, sold to Fleece Robinson, of Garrard, a pair of 6-year old mules for $325.

W. M. Anderson, of Stanford, sold a pair of mules to Fleece Robinson for $170.

The average price of live stock on the Chicago market last week, as compiled by the Drovers' Journal, were: Cattle 9.10, hogs 9.05 sheep 5.60 and lambs, 5.20. On the corresponding week of last year the averages were: Cattle 8.30, hogs 7.60, sheep 4.25 and lambs 7.60.

Lambs are about all sold in Clark county and some cattle and hogs are being shipped out. The buyers are paying 8c to 9c for hogs and 6c to 9c for cattle. Cattle ready for shipment are in demand; also cattle for grazing and carrying through the winter.

Ben R. McDonald, of Mexico, Mo., paid a tribute on fair week to his dead champion, Rex McDonald, by decorating the old horse's grave in the center field of the fair grounds. Hundreds of people who had watched Rex McDonald's glory in many a hard-fought battle, paid a farewell tribute to him during the week. Every man that visited the grave took off his hat and had a good word for old Rex.

The biggest week's run since February caused a drop in cattle last week, except strictly choice to prime, yearlings of prime kind had good action, but were scarce. One lot sold at 10 1/4c; but only a few were good enough to go over 9 1/2c last week. Strictly prime steers owing to scarcity, made new tops, two lots averaging 1,500 and 1,457 lbs. sold at 10 1/4c and 10 1/2c.

James Walker, farmer of Scottville, Ill., sold in Chicago on the 19th ult. five cars of cattle, 80 head, for $11,784.13, of which 47 steers averaging 1,475 brought $10.60 per hundred, or $154.45 per head, while 26 steers avg. 1,378 brought $10.50 per hundred, or $144.70 per head. These are the highest prices ever received for such stock. Mr. Walker is 81 years old and has fed cattle for the Chicago market continuously for 32 years. Within this period he has sold the best cattle as low as 3 1/2c per lb and the best hogs at 2 1/2c, and has seen corn selling at 8 cts. per bushel such as is now selling at 80c a bushel.

Babies That Coax 'Em Home.

A young man of Jenkins, Ky., deserted the United States army, giving as his excuse, when arrested, that he "wanted to see his six months old girl baby." Usually the "baby," which causes a soldier boy to turn his footsteps homeward ranges from 16 to 25 years.—Owensboro Inquirer.

Special Prayer.

The following is a special prayer set forth by the Bishop of Lexington for use in view of the European war: "O, God Almighty, that rulest and commandest all things, so intervene between the nations at war that the progress of Thy kingdom shall not be set back, and that the wrath and greed of man shall be made to praise Thee. Preserve our own land and people inviolate; and may our own country do in righteousness the things that make for peace. Minister Thy infinite pity to those who shall suffer the calamities of war. And finally establish everywhere the reign of the Prince of Peace, in whose name we shall ever pray for the peace of the world—Thy Son, our Savior, Jesus Christ. Amen."

Fall Strawberries.

C. W. Baldwin, the Shakertown pike gardener, has on exhibition at Foley's store today some strawberries gathered from his bed this morning. Mr. B. is experimenting on the proposition of raising strawberries in the fall as well as in the spring.—Danville Advocate.

Price 50c at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—get Doan's Kidney Pills—the same that Mrs. Roberts recommended. Foster-Milburn Co. Props., Buffalo, N. Y. adv

PAYING THE PRICE

By N. H. CROWELL.

A gaunt woman stood in the cabin doorway and peered anxiously down the narrow pathway leading into the depths below. At her knees clung three wide-eyed children—their cheeks checked, wild-eyed little girls—and the sound of half-titled sobbing told of grief rankling in their childish bosoms.

After a careful scrutiny of the timber far beneath, the woman turned and patted the girls' heads reassuringly.

"When are we a-goin' to eat, mam?" inquired the eldest, for perhaps the tenth time.

"When pap comes, child," came the weak response.

The woman's hollow cheeks flushed as she glanced swiftly toward the little cupboard in the corner—the knew its bitter secret. Jim, her husband, also knew it when he descended that narrow path early in the morning.

From the depths a whistle sounded up clear and keen, and the anxious face of the woman became pitiful with tense, eager hope. Nearer came the sound, and presently the crackle of branches brushed aside could be heard.

"Lissy?" 'Twas a man's voice—expectant—full of cheer.

"Jim!" That word spoke volumes. The children darted away, and somewhere in the dark a laughing, scuffling capture took place. The woman smiled slightly and turned quickly to her work—her preparations for a meal.

Polsterously the four entered the cabin, the children tugging at a wealth of packages clasped beneath the man's long arms. One stride took him to the table and he dropped his burden there on, hastily, as though glad to have done with them.

"Purty late, Lissy, by Jo!" he said. "Thought I never would git up them rocks beyond Cole's fork. I'm clean tuckered."

"Jim!" The word trembled pitifully. "Yuh hain't got no credit down yender, have yuh, Jim?"

"No, Lissy, I hain't."

"No money been a-comin' in to yuh nowhere, Jim?"

"They raided a wil'cat this a-tubnoon, Lissy," he said, awkwardly.

"Who got took?" 'Twas a prompt, eager, ready query.

"Tunk Sellers. I heard they ketch'd 'im."

"Shore, Jim?"

"Yes, Lissy, I'm shore."

She stooped and heaved herself at the stove—her eyes wide, like those of a hunted animal. A short time elapsed and the savory odor of frying meat dwelt fragrant upon the air. The children circled clamorously about the table, expectant.

"Set up, Jim," said the woman, presently.

He shook his head slowly.

"Hain't hungry, Lissy?"

She did not argue the matter—her voice prevented it. The meal was nearly over when the man arose and stood before a cracked bit of looking glass that hung on the wall. Presently he turned and dropped a small packet into the woman's lap.

"Yuh might git yuh a better glass, Lissy. You will—won't yuh, gal?" He spoke tenderly, yet harshly.

She dropped her fingers and they met the packet. The fingers instinctively closed over it. Her eyes studied the faded design in the oilcloth freely.

Upon a little shelf stood a battered clock. He picked it up and began winding it, after which he shook it to his ear. Replacing it, he stroked himself lazily—then kissed the little girl, beginning at the eldest.

The woman's face was now buried in her apron. He put his broad hand upon her gray-flecked locks, bent low and whispered:

"Lissy—woman—I—I'm goin'!"

Silently he opened the door and stepped out into the darkness.

Crack! It came up, clear and crisp—the sound of a rifle.

Shiftless Jim had taken the price—and a law, as inscrutable as fate, ordained that he should return to the lonely mountain home no more forever.

Patriotic Uncle Rod.

When Uncle Rod, the old colored man who worked about the place, came one morning Mrs. Stone said: "Well, Uncle Rod, I hear you have another pair of twins at your house."

"Yaas, missus," responded the man, "we has. Bress dey little hearts!"

"Have you named them yet?" asked the woman.

"Ya'm," said Rod. "Done named 'em aftah two ob de fust presidents ob dis country."

"Indeed!" said Mrs. Stone, "which two?"

"Ole Christofo Columbus an' Juleynous Caesar," said the man. "We's great on nam'n' de chillun fo' de presidents 't our house."—National Monthly.

Our Mexican Border.

The California-Mexican border covers 152 miles, Arizona has 300 miles of border on Mexico. New Mexico neighbors with the Mexicans for 410 miles, and Texas lies along the Mexican boundary for more than 900 miles.

Horse's Method of Fighting.

In many cavalry combats we hear of more damage done by the weight of the horses than by the weapons of the riders. Wild horses often fight with their teeth as well as their feet.

WAYS TO MAKE BROOM LAST

Care of the Article Will Result in Prolonging Its Usefulness a Considerable Time.

Buy a good one.
Before using, bring water to a boiling point, add salt, pour over broom to toughen and make stronger. Do this at least once a week afterward.

Cut top of old stocking and run down over broom beyond the lines of stitching, to hold parts together, and prolong usefulness.

Cut groove around top of handle; tie twine in same and always hang up. Do not stand it up, as that spreads it, loosening parts and wearing it out more quickly.

A screw eye inserted into top of handle is even a better convenience for hanging it up.

When worn short, cut last row and second row of stitching. Pull out twine loops. This will make it last a couple of months longer. Then cut third last row and prolong usefulness another few weeks.

An old sweater or piece of flannel made in shape of bag with drawstring at top, dipped in kerosene, wrung out and then slipped over an old broom and drawn up will make an excellent nap and dust gatherer on painted floors, under beds, etc.

A clean cotton bag made and used in the same way will dust down side walls and remove cobwebs without soiling paper or paint.

COVERING FOR SMALL TABLE

Case Where Scrap of Otherwise Unserviceable Material May Be Employed With Good Effect.

Have you a favorite small table whose top is hopelessly marred? If so, don't relegate it to the attic, but try to cover its top neatly with some sort of substantial material that is in the house. Look about and see if there isn't something which will answer perfectly. Nearly always precisely such a scrap can be found. Figure damask fitted smoothly over the top of a table and secured to it with short, slender tacks concealed under a narrow tinsel gimp makes a pretty cover and so do any of the printed cretonnes edged with cotton gimp. Some people use the attractive square pillow tops if the table's surface is not too large for them to cover, and others use hand-embroidered canvases.

If one does not mind the expense of having a sheet of glass cut to the required dimensions, a really choice piece of handwork or an old print may be used under the protecting transparency. A wide strip of gimp pasted partly over the edges of the glass and partly over the edges of the table will firmly hold the double covering in position.

Chicken Croquettes.
The sauce for croquettes must be thicker than an ordinary white sauce. Use one-quarter cupful of flour, two level tablespoons of butter and one cupful of milk seasoned with onion juice and a dash of celery salt. Cook five minutes. To this amount of sauce add two cupfuls of chopped cooked chicken, mix well and cool. Shape into little rolls or cones. Beat one egg with a tablespoonful of water and roll the croquettes in this. Dip the eggs over the entire surface, so that it may be entirely coated, then cover with sifted bread crumbs in the same way. Fry in smoking hot deep fat. Some tastes prefer two or three gratings of nutmeg in the sauce, but this flavoring must be used with care.

Cinnamon Cake.
Two cups of brown sugar, half cup of butter, three eggs, reserve one white for frosting; one cup of water, two teaspoons of cinnamon, half teaspoon of ginger, three cups of flour, two teaspoons of baking powder.

Iceing—Make a sirup of one cup of brown sugar and one-quarter cup of water. Add two teaspoons of cinnamon.

When the sirup strings pour it over the beaten white of one egg and beat until thoroughly blended. Level measurements.

Making Soft Soap.
To ten pounds of clean grease (drippings, etc.) allow six pounds of washing soda, eight gallons of boiling water. Stir it with a wooden paddle and beat four minutes. Cover and let it stand for ten days, stirring from the bottom every day. By then the soda will have "eaten up" the grease. When you take out a supply for present use beat up well before dipping it out.

Strawberry Ice Cream.
One and one-half pints of cream, one quart milk, one pound, granulated sugar, one cup powdered sugar, one quart berries. Scald all of the milk and half of the cream and granulated sugar till sugar is dissolved; add other half of cream and freeze. When half frozen, add mashed berries, over which was sprinkled the cup of powdered sugar. This makes a gallon.

Quick Corn Bread.
One cupful Indian meal, sifted; one-half cupful flour, three tablespoons of sugar, one teaspoonful cream of tartar, one-half teaspoonful soda, one-half teaspoonful salt, one teaspoonful melted butter and one egg; put all together with sweet milk, make medium batter, bake in greased pie pan in hot oven and serve with butter.

Sanitary Hint.
When baking cake use a toothpick to test instead of a straw from the broom.

A MISTAKEN IDEA
There are some people who still resort to drugged pills or alcoholic stimulants to overcome colds, nervousness or general debility, and who know that the pure, unadulterated nourishment in Scott's Emulsion is eminently better, but refrain from taking it because they fear it may lead to excessive fat or obesity.

This is a mistaken idea, because Scott's Emulsion first strengthens the body before making flesh. Its blood-forming properties aid nature to throw off sickness by building health from its very source, and flesh is formed only by its continued use. Avoid alcoholic substitutes for SCOTT'S.

Buyers To Share In Profits Lower Prices On Ford Cars

Effective from August 1, 1914, to August 1, 1915, and guaranteed against any reduction during that time:

Touring Car	-	-	$490
Runabout	-	-	440
Town Car	-	-	690

F. O. B. Detroit, all cars fully equipped.
(In the United States of America only)

Further, we will be able to obtain the maximum efficiency in our factory production, and the minimum cost in our purchasing and sales departments if we can reach an output of 300,000 cars between the above dates.

And should we reach this production, we agree to pay as the buyer's share from $40 to $60 per car (on or about August 1, 1915) to every retail buyer who purchases a new Ford car between August 1, 1914, and August 1, 1915.

Vest Pocketbook of Political Information—Free.

We are pleased to announce to our readers that they can secure an interesting vest pocketbook and calendar by sending three 1-cent stamps to D. Swift & Co., Washington, D. C. This booklet gives the popular vote cast in each State in 1912 for Wilson, Roosevelt and Taft, the number of Democrats and Republicans elected by each State to the Senate and House; also gives the result of the Presidential and Congressional elections of 1908 and 1910 and a synopsis of the life of each President from Washington to Wilson. It gives also much other useful information, such as household receipts, business laws, the population of each State in 1890, 1900 and 1910 and the population of 600 of the largest cities in the United States. This handy little booklet would sell for 25 cts. at a book store.

This Is the Way it Is.

The editor of a weekly paper has "a time of it" when he tries to comment on current events, especially such a big thing as the European war. He may write his views today and when his paper comes out with them tomorrow, the whole situation may be changed and his comments may be utterly inapplicable. Probably the wisest thing for him to do is to urge his readers to plant potatoes and turnips and take care of the hay crop.

You Can Have Beautiful Hair

If you keep the scalp clean and healthy your hair will have all its natural beauty. But the scalp is often neglected and scalp diseases, falling hair and baldness result.

HAIR TONIC

is a scientific preparation that removes the cause of dandruff, itching, and falling hair and keeps the scalp and hair in a healthy condition. The use of Meritol Hair Tonic in accordance with directions positively promotes hair growth, and your hair is certain of being at its very best.

Kentucky. Woman, Sufferer From Stomach Ills, Quickly Restored

Mrs. Belle Hawkins Uses Mayr Remedy—"Never Felt Better in My Life."

Mrs. Belle Hawkins, Eminence, Ky., was a victim of stomach disorders. She took a great deal of treatment and medical attention.

At last she tried Mayr's Wonderful Stomach Remedy and got real results. In a letter telling of her experience, she said:

"I have taken all of the medicine I ordered of you and will say that it has done more good than all the doctors and medicine I ever tried. I don't really think I need any medicine now, as I think I am well. I never felt better in my life. If I ever should need any medicine I know where to get it."

That is a typical letter, taken as one among the thousands from the users of Mayr's Wonderful Stomach Remedy. The first dose proves—no long treatment.

Mayr's Wonderful Stomach Remedy clears the digestive tract of mucoid accretions and removes poisonous matter. It brings swift relief to sufferers from ailments of the stomach, liver and bowels. Many declare it has saved them from dangerous operations and many are sure it has saved their lives.

Because of the remarkable success of this remedy there are many imitators, so be cautious. Be sure it's MAYR'S. Go to Perry's Drug Store and ask about the wonderful results it has been accomplishing—or send to Geo. H. Mayr, Mfg. Chemist, 154-156 Whiting Street, Chicago, Ill., for free book on stomach ailments and many grateful letters from people who have been restored. Any druggist can tell you of its wonderful effects.

The machine guns of the German army are expected to play terrible havoc with the enemies of the Kaiser. The gunners of the German army are agreed to be the most expert in the world. ## WOMEN AND THE RIGHT TO VOTE

Should Be Given Time to Exercise Franchise.

LITTLE TROUBLE FOR THEM

By VIRA BOARMAN WHITEHOUSE.

ONE objection made to woman suffrage is that women will not have time to vote. Miss Alice Buck, representing the anti-suffragists and speaking as a working woman before a congressional committee in Washington, December, 1913, said, "We do not want the vote principally because we feel that we have quite enough to occupy our time now, regardless of politics."

Joseph G. Pyle in a leaflet read before the same congressional hearing explained that for the farmer's wife "voting is a hardship too great to be endured. Aside from the preliminary preparations, she must go to the polls, often in inclement weather, walking or riding several miles to get there; but, above all, it is the wife and mother living at home, whose domestic duties are supposed to leave her no time to vote. The view that voting takes a very great deal of time seems to be a general one among the anti-suffragists. But men who vote assert that the actual time spent in a polling booth, even at the most crowded election, does not exceed half an hour and is usually not more than ten minutes.

Elections infrequent. Elections are not daily or even frequent occurrences, as these objections to women voting would seem to suggest. In some places the municipal, county, state and federal elections are all held on the general election day—the first Tuesday after the first Monday in November. In other places the local elections are held in the spring. There are at times special elections, as, for instance, the recent one of April 7 here in New York state to determine whether or not there should be a constitutional convention. Such special elections are rare and seem to arouse little interest.

There are also, since the passage of the law providing for direct nominations, primary elections, at which the enrolled members of each political party ought to vote. But when every kind of election is taken into account the most conscientious citizen is not called to the polls more than two or three times a year and the actual time spent in voting does not exceed at the most liberal allowance an hour or two a year.

All men of course do not vote. In the presidential election of 1912 the total number of those voting was less than 15,000,000 while the number eligible to vote was over 24,000,000. The proportion of men voting at this election was somewhat smaller than at the preceding ones.

It is not lack of time, however, that keeps so many men from the polls. It is rather lack of interest. No business

Keeps Your Liver Healthily Active Cleanses Your System Thoroughly

A man in Kentucky just told a friend that Foley Cathartic Tablets were the most wonderful medicine that ever entered his system. Said he would not be without them. Stout people can't find anything to equal them for comfort. For sale by all dealers everywhere.

or work can be an excuse for this failure of the duty of citizenship, as in thirty-nine states election day is a legal holiday, on which no business is transacted.

A Large Class.

Working women now form a very large class in this country. It is estimated that there are about 8,000,000 or 9,000,000 of them. They would have, of course, the same facilities for voting as are given to workmen. Factories, shops and business offices are closed on election days.

The farmer's wife has grown up as a country girl in the open air. In her youth she probably walked each day to school and back and each Sunday to church. She will not be daunted by a distance of a few miles to do a duty which will bring her in return such great interests.

Rich women with servants to relieve them of household work and nurses or governesses to take charge of their children have time for whatever takes their fancy. It is, of course, particularly the wife and mother in the home who, it is believed, will have no time to vote. Men cannot elect hours as a day's work, but her mysterious duties are supposed to keep her permanently a prisoner within her four walls. If it is indeed true that such women are so hard driven, day after day, that they cannot even make any arrangement to leave their work for an hour or two a year, should not such a condition be changed?

Large Property Holders.

It would be unendurable to think that the conditions of society bear so heavily upon women that they cannot leave their duties even for the few minutes necessary for voting and that their lives, in spite of easy means of communication and cheap daily papers, are so cut off from all communal interests that they have no chance for forming political opinions.

Building Up The Community

The dollars spent with the home merchant are the dollars that help to build up the community. Nobody ever heard of a mail order house in a distant city making a contribution for the improvement of this town. The merchant in the city pays nothing towards the support of the school in which our children are educated nor for the support of the churches in which our people worship. In fact, the dollar sent to the merchant in the big city is gone forever, so far as any good to your community is concerned. Is it fair to deprive the home merchant of your cash trade and thus deprive the community of the benefits to be derived from keeping this money at home? Civic pride is a virtue to which citizen can not rightfully lay claim who makes a practice of sending away from home for his purchases just for the sake of saving a few pennies on each. Let's all band together in an effort to build up the community by patronizing the home merchants.

Maude Muller Up to Date.

Maude Muller, on a summer's day, Raked the meadows sweet with hay.

And as she raked, in the early morn,
She heard the honk of a Claxton horn.
Anon there drifted on the scene
A car, propelled by gasoline.

The Judge rode up in his motor car
And said to Maude: "Ah, there you are!"

He killed his engine, in the shade
Of the apple tree, to chin the maid.

He spoke of the mileage on his tires,
As is the way of all good liars.

He said his car was quite the best
And had the edge on all the rest.

He invited Maude to take a ride
And, nothing loath, she jumped inside.

The Judge, from a purring brooklet drank
And forthwith started in to crank.

He cranked and cranked, till his arms
were sore,
Then started in and cranked some more.

He cranked and cranked till he reeked
with sweat,
And cranked till after the sun had set.

He cranked away with a right good will,
And the chances are he is cranking still.

And of all devices with which we're cursed,
The auto crank is about the worst.

Prepared to Ride Out The Storm.

The power to add $1,000,000,000 to our currency, conferred by legislation just passed by Congress, puts an end to any danger of a financial stringency, and the legitimate protection of our gold from raids from abroad will still further strengthen our financial position. The calmness and cooperation shown during the last week on all sides in the face of a far greater danger than has given rise to many panics in the past, bears testimony to the American power of self-control in a crisis and to public confidence in the Administration at Washington.—Baltimore Evening Sun.

Has brought Down Prices.

The Administration's crusade to prevent extortionate overcharges for foods in this country, on the pretext that the European war has caused a scarcity, is being supported in all the great cities. The Administration's action had the immediate effect of reducing prices all over the country.

The day following the announcement of President Wilson's order to Attorney General McKeeney, under which a thorough investigation is being made with a view to the criminal prosecution of the participants in combinations to increase food prices, a local news article in the Chicago Herald (Ind.) said:

"Chicago's war time food market weakened slightly yesterday, when the investigators for the Federal Department of Justice began compiling statistics on the sudden rise in the prices of foodstuffs. Sugar and imported commodities were about the only foods showing sharp tendencies."

The Government's inquiries are to be particularly directed against the producers of flour and grain products. In view of the huge wheat crop, it is contended that there can be no legitimate excuse for unusually high prices of wheat products, including flour and bread. The St. Louis Republic (Dem.) points out "the evidence of cold-blooded greed appear writ large upon the movement of flour prices since the 24th of July."

Calamity Howlers Out of Job.

Newspaper headline—"High Food Cost Arouses President Wilson to Aid People." The President's way of making war!

With importations shut off by the war, flour jumped from 60 cents to $1 on the barrel. Put the tariff back and it will stay at a dollar. Do you want the tariff back?

That American business was forced to trim ship during the pendency of the Wilson revision of business laws has been proved to be an exceedingly healthy thing. The United States necessarily became involved in the financial derangement which accompanied the outbreak of the European conflict; and it is clear that we will not be able to rely on European capital for domestic enterprises for a long time to come. Hence, as many financial journals are now saying, it is most fortunate that for many months prior American business had been adjusting itself to the absence of foreign capital.

Wilsongrams.

Liberty does not consist, my fellow citizens, in mere general declarations of the rights of men. It consists in the translation of those declarations into definite action.

The way to be patriotic in America is not only to love America, but to love the duty that lies nearest to our hand and know that in performing it we are serving our country.

It is patriotic to learn what the facts of our National life are and to face them with candor.

We set this Nation up—at any rate, we professed to set it up—to vindicate the rights of men.

I would be ashamed of this flag (Stars and Stripes) if it ever did anything outside America that we would not permit it to do inside of America.

When I have made a promise I try to keep it, and I know of no other rule permissible to a Nation.

The Last Great European War.

Bootleggers Must Go to Jail

The most drastic law enacted by the General Assembly in 1914 apparently has escaped the observation of local officers as well as violators. In amending the prohibition law the Legislature changed the word "or" to "and" in the penalty for bootlegging, depriving courts of the discretion of fining or imprisoning those found guilty of this offense and making the penalty a fine and imprisonment. This little change was lost sight of in more extensive amendments to the law. The old penalty was a fine of $60 to $100 or ten to forty days in jail or both. The amendment law fixes the penalty at $60 to $100 fine and 20 to 40 days in jail. Exchange.

When The Kidneys Fail

Richmond People Have Found That Ill Health Follows.

Do you ever feel that you simply can't go any farther—that you must have rest from that lame and aching back—relief from that constant, dead-tired feeling—freedom from those stabbing, darting pains? Likely your kidneys are worn and tired and need help. The kidneys work night and day, removing uric acid from the blood and other waste created by expenditure of strength and energy. Naturally a life of unusual activity doubles the duties of the kidneys and in time the strain generally tells. Doan's Kidney Pills have brought new strength to thousands of bad backs, and relief to weakened kidneys, so users say. Let them do the same for you. Convincing proof of merit in Richmond testimony.

Mrs. E. Roberts, 405 Laurel street, Richmond, Ky., says: "Doan's Kidney Pills have been used in my family with very good results and we recommend them strongly. One of us had pains in the back and the action of the kidneys was irregular. Doan's Kidney Pills were used. Being procured at Middleton's drug store, and they gave great relief."

A POSTPONED ROMANCE

By JEAN SHEAR.

"What made you ask me to marry you?" inquired the bride, as one asks what the weather is likely to be.

"Why," the bride's husband paused.

"I guess it was because you were looking around and picked me out."

"No," replied the bride, meditatively, "it could not have been just that, because Miss Mary McGee's been picking out husbands for 20 years, and she'd just quit that unprofitable occupation and had begun to be happy, when she found him!"

"Who's this Miss Mary McGee?"

"She's just Miss Mary McGee!" the bride laughed. "I don't know how I can explain more, if that doesn't tell you! She's the woman down the block who lives with the children and they all call her Miss Mary McGee."

So every one else does! She's been with the children until she's just like one—but she didn't begin until she'd given up the hope of getting married, you know."

"How interesting," commented the man.

"Yes, but she's had a genuine romance! You see it got out, naturally," said the bride, taking a deep breath to mark the beginning of the story, "through the children that Miss McGee wasn't invited to Jane Benton's wedding, because she was needed by some one or other to take care of the children. And no one thought she'd think anything of it! But the children talked it over before her."

"How interesting," commented the man.

EMOTIONS ARE NO BAR TO VOTES

Both Sexes More or Less Influenced by Feelings.

THE EXCITABILITY OF MEN.

By VIRA BOARMAN WHITEHOUSE.

THE anti-suffragists say that women shouldn't vote because they are too emotional. A recent letter in the New York

Correction Katharine B. Davis, said, "Probably there never has been and probably there never will be a woman thoroughly capable of holding a position where the faculty for calm reasoning and not emotion is the prime requisite."

This opinion is a surprisingly common one among people who oppose woman's suffrage. At the root of it there are two assumptions: That women when they vote will be more emotional than men in their relation to public affairs and that emotion in the conduct of public affairs is altogether undesirable.

Since women as yet have taken no great part in political life the first of these assumptions must be based on the fact that women in private relations have shown themselves to be more emotional than men. Undoubtedly they cry more easily. They may be moved more quickly perhaps to the expression of pity. Their judgments may be more rapidly taken and less carefully considered. But how much of this is due to difference of training? So far the world has insisted that a personal or familiar kind, and when they express themselves in a personal manner it exclaims, "How emotional!"

Men, however, do not show themselves altogether destitute of emotions in private life, although their emotions may be aroused by different interests and may be expressed not by tears, but by swearing, shouting or hat throwing. The ideal of a calm and stoic silence under every strain seems to be passing away. Our college boys watching a football game are not unmoved. They stir themselves to an emotional excitement by songs and college cheers.

Our legislative bodies are supposed to be exceedingly dignified in their conduct of political business, but even in them scenes of an emotional nature are not unknown. In other countries they are frequent. During the past winter the German reichstag has been in an uproar of excitement over the Zabrern affair, the Austrian house in a tumult over the delay in passing a bill giving more power to the representatives, and the Italian chamber, rivaling those scenes in a discussion over an election reform, has shown that men do not always conduct questions of government with judicial dignity.

Wars, which have been the affair of men, have seldom been entered into with cold calculation. Emotion will be found to lie at the bottom of the final action.

It was intense indignation at the treatment of the negro and pity for him that had much to do with our civil war. It was also a mixture of sympathy with the difficulties of the Cubans and indignation at the sinking of the Maine that brought on the Spanish-American war.

Recently, when war was threatened with Mexico, the calm decision of the statesmen of this country was to avoid a conflict at all costs, but when Mexico refused to salute our flag in a specified manner war seemed imminent. There were excited groups of men throughout the country who gladly took this refusal as a gaze of battle.

The only concerted action taken by women, however, in this connection, far from contributing to the excitement, sets itself against it. In New York they calculated coldly the cost in men and work and held a great mass meeting of protest at Cooper Union upholding the real determination of the administration in Washington to avoid war if possible.

Emotion is Necessary.

Emotion, it may be suggested, is not merely a feminine characteristic but a human one, shared alike by both men and women. With men it seems perhaps more productive of violent results—lawless deeds as well as noble wars. But who would banish all emotion from a nation's life—all sympathy with the unfortunate, all indignation over wrongs, all generous desire to help without carefully counting the cost?

Men are emotional in their own lives, they have shown themselves emotional in public affairs. Women, too, are emotional in their lives, but it is too early yet to judge what effect the emotionalism of women will have when brought to bear on the conduct of public affairs. If their emotionalism, however, can "look upon the great industrial problems as human problems" perhaps that is just the quality the world of politics most needs.

DIPPING TANK IS ESSENTIAL

Receiptable May Be Used for Sheep, Hogs and Young Calves—Beneficial in Many Ways.

(By R. A. CURTIS.)

A sheep dipping tank should be on every farm. The tank can not only be used for sheep, but for hogs and young calves as well, so that the entire outlay need not be charged up against the sheep. Dipping is especially valuable in overcoming the ravages of scab, lice and ticks, but it will prove beneficial in preventing eye, nose and general troubles. If regular dipping is practiced it will not only prevent to a large extent many of the ravages common to sheep, but it will maintain the flock in a much better state of general healthfulness.

There are several proprietary dips on the market which can be used successfully at a moderate cost. Standard dips of this kind are generally used in the proportion of one part of dip to forty parts of water, making a 2 1/2 per cent solution. The best and most effective time to dip sheep is about ten days after shearing. It will take much less of the solution and be far more effective. Dipped in this way the sheep can be put through the tank very rapidly, while if they are dipped for scab or while the wool is on they should be immersed several times and held under, excepting the head, from one and one-half to two minutes. In case of sheep scab all should be loosened so that the dip will thoroughly penetrate the exposed parts.

In the actual construction of a dipping tank the aim should be to provide for efficient dipping and still not have the tank so large as to require an excessive amount of dip. If properly constructed the saving of dip will prove to be an item during the season.

The ordinary galvanized iron tank is the one in most common use, but it is not as lasting as a tank built of brick and then cemented, or the solid concrete vat built in a mold or form. This will cost more, but will last a lifetime, and there will be no bulging or leaking if the masonry work has been properly done. A tank 10 feet long at the top, 4 feet long at the bottom, 20 inches wide at the top and 8 inches wide at the bottom, and 4 1/2 feet deep will answer every purpose. The tank should be set 4 to 8 inches above ground to keep out surface drainage and filth. All necessary equipment for dipping should be located convenient to the yards or lots where the stock is kept. This will make frequent dipping less trouble and expense. The animal should be dropped buttock first into the disinfecting solution. A draining floor should be provided.

A Good Ration.

A good ration for a horse that is troubled with indigestion is mixed as follows: Ground oats and corn, five pounds each; four ounces of alfalfa meal, two ounces of salt, a dessertspoonful of powdered gentian and a small teaspoonful of dried sulphate of iron. If the animal refuses the ration a little starvation will make him taste it, when his dislike will cease. Begin with a small quantity of this ration for each meal and increase it gradually until a full ration is being fed.

Supply Good Bedding.

A plentiful supply of dry bedding not only makes it more comfortable for the animal to lie down and rest, but adds to its warmth and in every sense increases its comfort.
